Testimonial

Elisa Bacongallo is a 40-year old Senior Finance Executive at QNET Philippines. Since her early thirties, she had been dealing with chronic acne that has been ravaging her face, neck and back. She tried products endorsed by international celebrities, products recommended by her friends and products prescribed by dermatologists but to her dismay, not one of those worked for her. Aside from dealing with the daily stress of doing documentations and financial reports, she also had to deal with the embarrassment and the low self-confidence brought by her persistent skin problem.

Three years ago, a former colleague advised Elisa to try BioSilver 22 Gel, one of QNET's Personal Care products. With doubt and reluctance, she purchased one bottle. Little did she know that the day she got hold of her order was the day she was starting a happier phase in her life. Her first few days of applying the product on her face brought no visible results but after one week of using it, she noticed that her acne was starting to dry up and her blemishes were clearing up. She saw the full transformation after one month of regular use. Today, her skin is clean, clear, hydrated, supple and glowing. When asked how she feels now that BioSilver 22 Gel has completely cured her skin problem, she says "I'm happy and satisfied."
