

ALLOE V

NATURE'S TREASURE

THE SUPER PROTECTOR OF THE DIGESTIVE SYSTEM

Aloe Vera is an all-purpose medicinal plant renowned for its healing properties. Its benefits have been documented over centuries, all over the world. The medicinal use of Aloe Vera dates back thousands of years and its properties have been further enhanced through modern scientific research. Clinical analysis has revealed that Aloe Vera contains many amino acids, minerals, enzymes, proteins, polysaccharides, biological stimulators, and loads of vitamins!

Aloe Vera is known to cleanse the digestive system, promote skin health and support the immune system. Among its 300 different species, the most revered is Aloe barbadensis Miller.

Alloe V contains Aloe Vera extracted from Aloe barbadensis Miller of the highest quality grown organically in the arid soils of Mexico. They are grown free from pollution, fertilisers, insecticides or grass-killers and certified by Farm Verified Organic and Quality Assurance International. They are irrigated using natural rainwater or spring water from surrounding mountains, bringing with it only the purest elements of nature.

Each Aloe Vera leaf is picked and processed immediately using advanced cold processing technology, which allows you to get the most out of this plant without losing its natural curative properties.
